

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

Manager Voyage. The launch plan.

Learner journeys, the communications cascade, enrollment, delivery and measurement for bringing every Vanderbilt manager onto one standard. Draft messages included, with dates.

PEOPLE, CULTURE AND BELONGING | FUTURES LEARNING HUB | PILOT JANUARY 2027 | LAUNCH MARCH 2, 2027

DRAFT FOR REVIEW · NOVEMBER 6, 2026 · DATES MOVE TOGETHER WITH THE LAUNCH DATE

THE PLAN ON ONE PAGE

Pilot in January. Cascade in February. Launch on March 2. Measure at ninety days.

Manager Voyage gives every manager at Vanderbilt the same standard, the same first ninety days and the same help. The launch follows the manager's own journey: nobody hears about it from a system before they hear about it from their own manager.

PHASE 0

Ready

NOV 6 TO DEC 11, 2026

QA feedback closes Nov 25. Course fixes land. Oracle items, dashboard and the SCORM launcher tested in Oracle. Sponsor go for the pilot Dec 11.

PHASE 1

Pilot

JAN 6 TO JAN 29, 2027

Twenty five managers from DAR, Facilities, VBOM, USAC, Campus Dining and VUIT take the whole first thirty days in three weeks. Readout Jan 27. Launch go Jan 29.

PHASE 2

Cascade

FEB 3 TO FEB 27, 2027

Leadership brief, business unit leader briefings, the toolkit for managers' managers, HCMs and ECs briefed, Portal live, teaser in MyVU.

PHASE 3

Launch

MAR 2 TO MAY 1, 2027

Launch email to every manager. Oracle assignments open. Day 1 automation on for new managers. Nudges at day 7, 22 and 60. Cohort invitations from May 1.

PHASE 4

Deliver and measure

APR 2027 ONWARD

Cohort 1 Apr 14 to May 5. Re-up assessment three months after each completion. Ninety day readout Jun 10. Quarterly dashboard to leadership.

4

Components

Compliance by location, Manager Foundations, the four-week cohort, the Manager Portal. One standard runs through all four.

90

Days, day one to the re-up

Legal courses by day 30. Policy courses, Foundations and the phase one micro modules by day 60. Cohort invitation at 60 days in good standing.

7

Modules in Foundations

About 90 minutes in all, 10 to 20 minutes each, in as many sittings as the manager likes. The essentials in 35.

25

Managers per cohort, each quarter

Bespoke cohorts for large units such as DAR. Fifty managers a year through the room and the two virtual weeks, growing with facilitator capacity.

WHAT WE ARE LAUNCHING

Four components. One standard.

The Vanderbilt Manager Standard is adapted from Gary Yukl's research on what effective managers do: four expectations, measured by the assessment, taught by the course, practiced in the cohort, and kept alive by the Portal.

01 · GET THE WORK DONE
Through your team. Priorities with owners, clear expectations, work checked before it is due.

02 · TAKE CARE OF YOUR PEOPLE
Support under pressure, thanks by name, decisions shaped by the team.

03 · MAKE THINGS BETTER
The why in your own words before the announcement. A look-back after big work.

04 · CONNECT YOUR TEAM
To the rest of Vanderbilt. Hear what is coming first. Show the hours, offer two options.

COMPONENT 01

Compliance, by location

The legal and policy courses for Tennessee, New York, Florida and California, supervisor versions included. Auto-assigned in Oracle Learning by the manager's work location. Legal by day 30, policy by day 60.

REQUIRED

COMPONENT 02

Manager Foundations

The assessment, then the course You Are a Manager Now on the web: seven modules, narrated, with live practice conversations in the manager's own world, Compass the course guide, and a quick check. Then the micro modules in Oracle Learning: Systems and Vanderbilt in days 1 to 30, People and Processes in days 31 to 60.

STRONGLY ENCOURAGED, TRACKED

COMPONENT 03

The four-week cohort

Where skill is built. A half day in the room, two virtual weeks under ninety minutes, a two-hour capstone. SparkWise learning labs, voice simulations with Sam, Dev, Priya and Marcus, and the Manager Playbook presented to the business unit leader.

BY INVITATION, 25 A QUARTER

COMPONENT 04

The Manager Portal

Every template, framework, policy link and contact from the course and the cohort, open from day one and never taken away. Who to call, same-day routes, and the My Voyage dashboard that shows each manager where they stand.

ALWAYS ON

Sources: Manager Voyage Executive Brief v2 (September 2026), the program data in the Manager Voyage site, and the responsibilities discussion of November 5, 2026. Cohort size follows the November 5 decision of twenty five managers a quarter.

WHO IT IS FOR

Three managers, two reinforcers, one message.

The audience is everyone who manages people at Vanderbilt: new to the university, promoted into the M track, or long tenured and never trained. The journey is the same. The way they first hear about it is not.

LEARNER A

The brand-new manager

Who. Hired or promoted into a manager role on or after launch. Day 1 is the day the assignment starts in Oracle HCM.

How they hear. Their own manager, in the first week, then the automated Day 1 email with the dashboard link.

What is different. The deadlines are real from day one. The protected time ask goes to their manager the same day.

Risk. Buried under the new job. Mitigated by the Day 7 nudge and the manager's manager check-in at day 14.

LEARNER B

The experienced manager, never trained

Who. Every current manager at launch, M1 to M5, whatever their tenure. The launch wave.

How they hear. The cascade: their business unit leader, then their own manager, then the launch email from PCB leadership on March 2.

What is different. Compliance is already current for most; the work is Foundations and the phase one micro modules. The essentials in 35 minutes; the whole course in about 90.

Risk. "I have done this for years." Mitigated by the assessment first, which shows where the habits sit, and by the cohort as the reward.

LEARNER C

The line manager moving into the M track

Who. A supervisor or lead who now approves time off for former peers, in Dining, Facilities, VUIT or a business office.

How they hear. Their HCM at the moment of the job change, plus the Day 1 email.

What is different. The practice conversations in their own world matter most: Campus Dining, VUIT, Facilities, Student Affairs, Academic Affairs, DAR or a business office.

Risk. Desk time is scarce on a floor or a route. Mitigated by the phone-friendly course and the no-microphone path.

REINFORCER

The manager's manager

The single biggest lever. They tell their managers it is coming, carve out two to three hours of protected time in the first two weeks, ask about the assessment in a 1:1, and hear the Playbook at the capstone. They get a toolkit on February 17 and one automated note per new manager.

REINFORCER

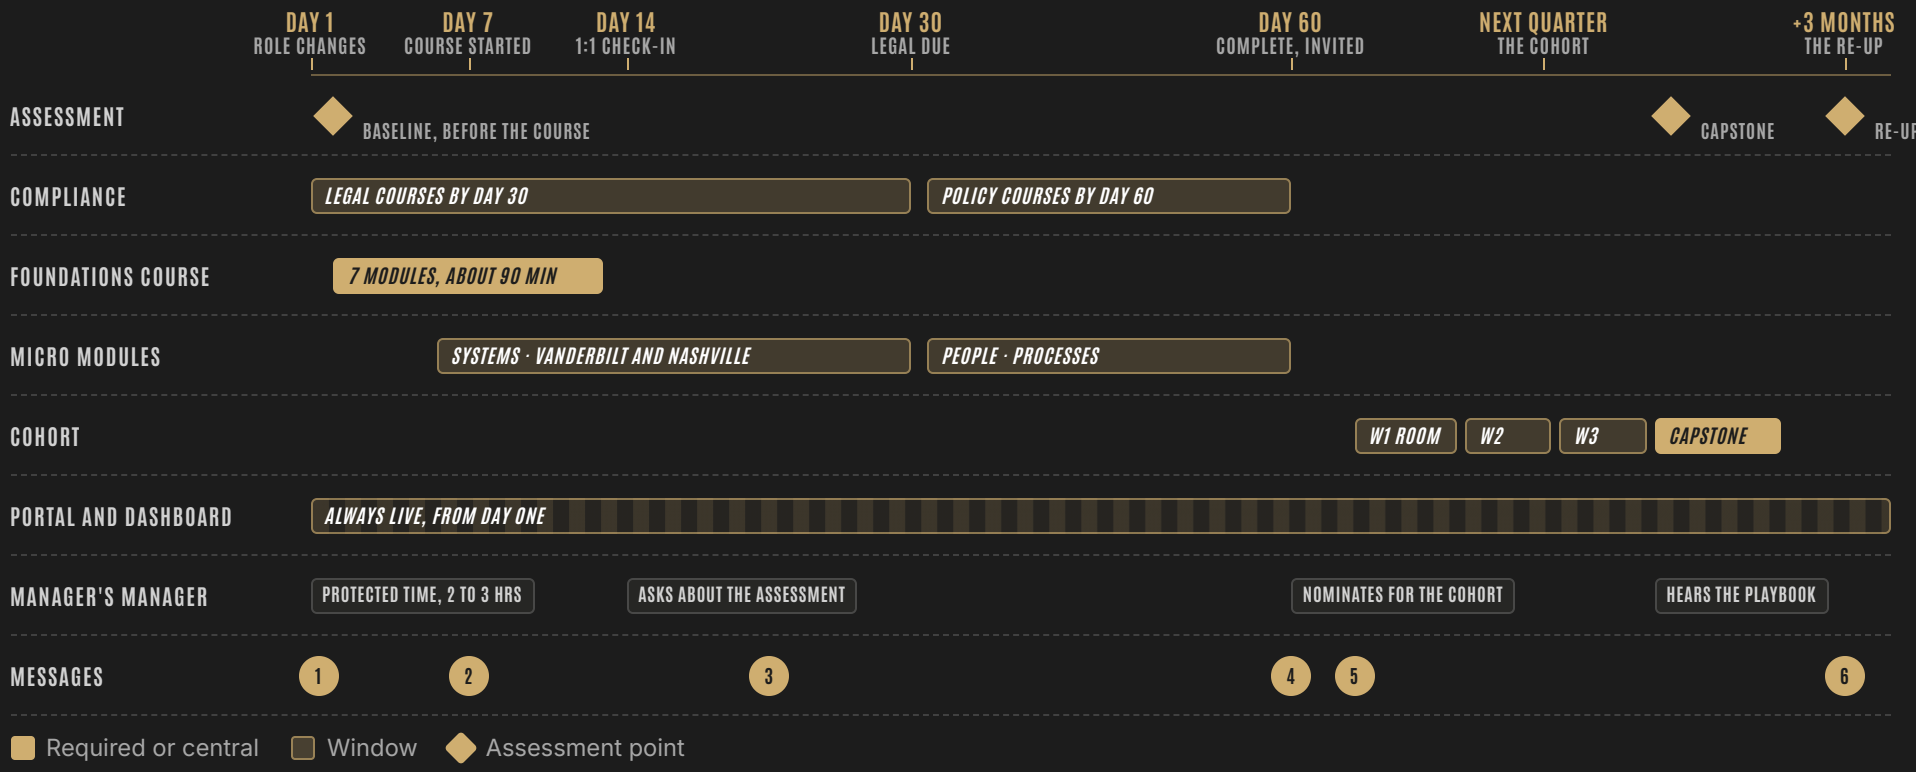

HCMs and Engagement Consultants

They see every job change first and answer the same-day questions. They are briefed on February 18, carry the one-line pitch and the dashboard link, and route a manager who is stuck. They are not the ones who have the conversation; the course is clear that the people work is the manager's work.

THE LEARNER JOURNEY

Day one to ninety, and every touchpoint on the way.

What a manager does, and what reaches them, from the day the role changes to the re-up. The numbered messages are drafted on pages 11 to 16.

BY DAY 30

Legal, seen, started

Legal courses done. The assessment taken and the results email kept. The course begun, with the manager's manager having asked about it once.

BY DAY 60

Complete, invited

Policy courses, Foundations and the Systems and Vanderbilt modules done. Completion in Oracle. The cohort invitation in hand, the People and Processes modules open.

BY DAY 90

Practiced, measured

The cohort, when a seat comes. The ten statements rated again at three months, beside the baseline. The Portal in weekly use.

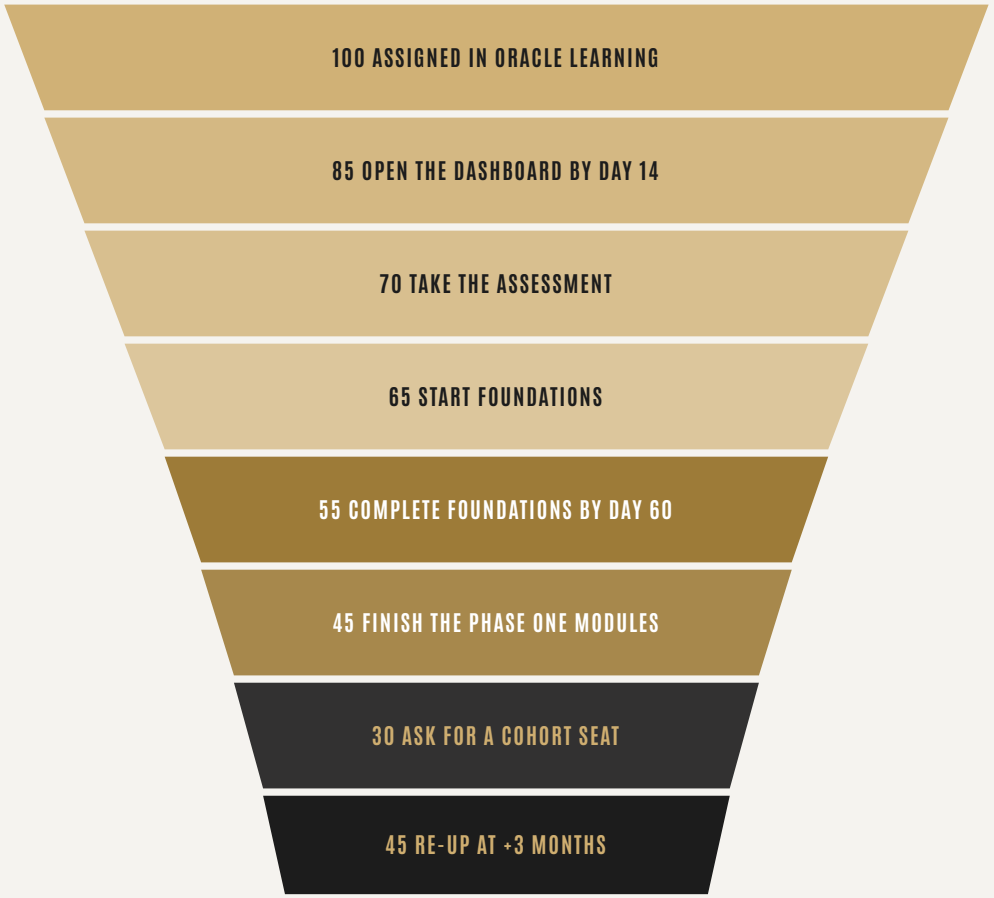

THE LEARNER JOURNEY, STAGE BY STAGE

What the manager does, feels and needs at each step.

	STAGE 1 Hear	STAGE 2 Enroll	STAGE 3 Start	STAGE 4 Learn	STAGE 5 Practice	STAGE 6 Prove	STAGE 7 Keep
WHEN	Launch wave: Feb 10 to Mar 2. New manager: the first week.	Mar 2, or Day 1 for a new manager.	Days 1 to 7.	Days 7 to 60.	Inside the course, then the cohort next quarter.	Day 60 and the capstone.	Three months on, and every week after.
THEY DO	Hear it from their business unit leader and their own manager. Read the teaser.	Open the launch or Day 1 email. Open the My Voyage dashboard. See their compliance rows by location.	Take the assessment, ten statements, five minutes. Get the results email. Begin Module 1.	Finish the seven modules in sittings. Complete the legal courses by day 30, the rest and the phase one micro modules by day 60.	Have the live conversations with Sam, Priya, Jordan and the rest in their own world. In the cohort, the Playbook one section a week.	Every activity marked done; the quick check at four of five. Completion recorded in Oracle. Present the Playbook at the capstone.	Rate the ten statements again. See what moved. Use the Portal every week: templates, who to call, the dashboard.
THEY FEEL	"Another course?" or "Finally."	"This is for me, in my location, with my dates."	"I did not know I never do that."	"One idea per screen. I can do this on my phone."	"That is exactly what Dev said to me last month."	"My manager heard how I will lead."	"The habits moved. One more to work on."
TOUCHPOINT	Cascade messages, MyVU teaser, Portal page.	Launch email (Mar 2) or Day 1 email. Oracle assignment. Dashboard.	Assessment results email. Day 7 nudge if not started.	Day 22 compliance reminder. Manager's manager 1:1 at day 14. Compass on every page.	Course scoring. Cohort welcome at week 0. SparkWise labs.	Day 60 completion email with the cohort invitation. Capstone in the room.	Re-up invitation at +3 months. Portal. Quarterly dashboard to the unit.

THE ENROLLMENT FUNNEL

Of every hundred managers in the launch wave, by day ninety.

TWO LANES, READ TOGETHER

Required. Compliance runs beside the funnel, not inside it: the target is 100 of 100 legal courses by day 30 and policy courses by day 60, as today. Oracle enforces it; the launch adds the dashboard so a manager sees it in one place.

Encouraged, tracked. Foundations, the micro modules and the cohort are the funnel above. The numbers are targets for the launch wave in its first ninety days, proposed for sign-off on December 11, and set from the pilot's actual conversion on January 27.

WHERE EACH NUMBER COMES FROM

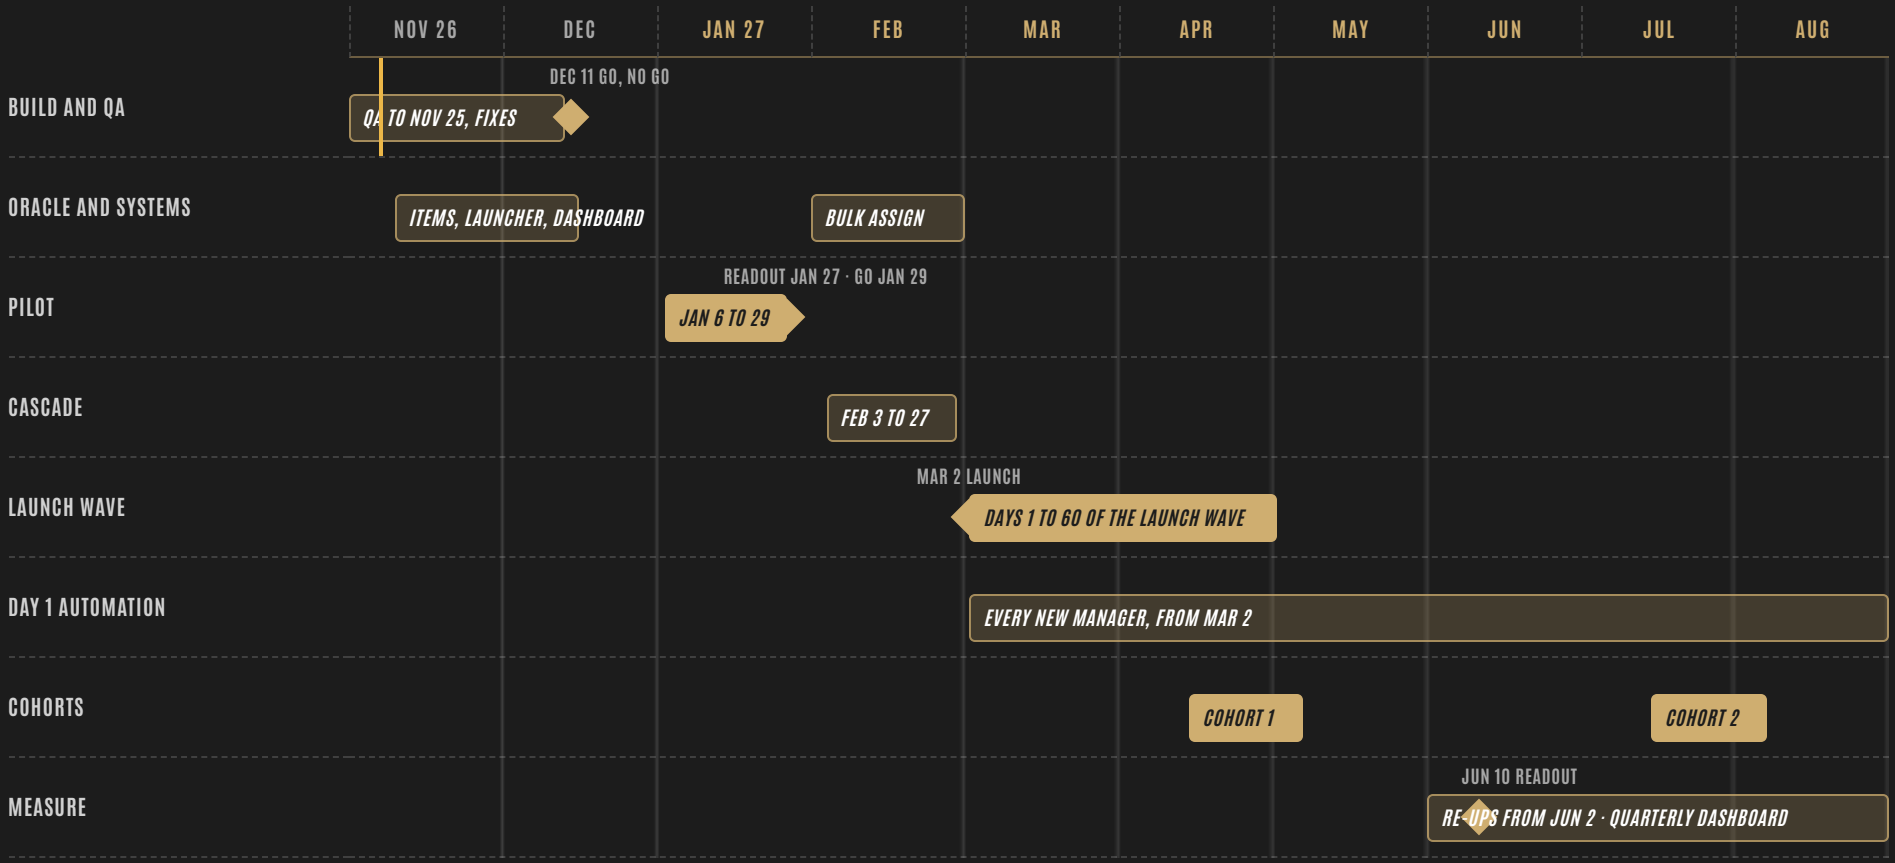

STAGE	SOURCE
Assigned, opened	Oracle Learning assignment and launch records; dashboard first open
Assessment, re-up	The assessment flow and the results dashboard (baseline and retake per manager)
Started, complete	Course completion written back to Oracle; thirteen activities and the quick check
Micro modules	Oracle Learning completions by item number
Cohort	Requests through the Portal, seats confirmed by FLH

NEW MANAGERS AFTER LAUNCH

Same funnel, higher targets, because Day 1 is real: 80 of 100 complete Foundations by day 30, 90 by day 60.

THE LAUNCH TIMELINE

November 2026 to August 2027, one line per workstream.

GO, NO GO 1 · DEC 11
Course QA closed and fixed. Oracle items for Foundations and the micro modules exist. The SCORM launcher reports a test completion in Oracle. Pilot roster of twenty five confirmed.

GO, NO GO 2 · JAN 29
Pilot conversion at or above half the targets on page 7. No open blocker on microphone, Oracle write-back or the dashboard. Business unit leaders booked for February 10.

READOUT · JUN 10
Ninety days of the launch wave: the funnel against target, compliance on time, assessment movement for the first re-ups, cohort 1 pulse. Decision on cohort capacity for the year.

THE COMMUNICATIONS CASCADE

Every manager hears it from a person before a system.

TIER 1 · FEB 3
PCB leadership to senior leadership

What they say. Why now: the manager bench is thin and internal fill rates show it. What it is: one standard, four components, ninety days. The ask: sponsor it in your area, protect the time, name three managers for cohort 1.

HOW
Fifteen minutes on the leadership agenda, the one-page brief, this plan.

▼

TIER 2 · FEB 10
Business unit leaders to their leadership teams

What they say. This is how we will manage here. The dates for our unit. The managers' managers own the follow-through. Bespoke cohort for the largest units.

HOW
Thirty-minute briefing with FLH, the toolkit: slides, the one-page brief, the forwardable note, the FAQ.

▼

TIER 3 · FEB 17
Managers' managers to their managers

What they say. In their own words, before the launch email: it is coming on March 2, I have blocked two to three hours for you in the first two weeks, we will talk about your assessment in our 1:1. The forwardable note is written for them; the better version is the one they write.

HOW
A team meeting or a 1:1, then the forwardable note. A reminder from FLH the week of launch.

TIER 4 · MAR 2
PCB leadership to every manager

What they say. You are a manager now, whatever year you started. Here is the standard, here is your dashboard, here are your dates. Open the assessment today.

HOW
The launch email, the Oracle assignment the same morning, the MyVU story, the Portal.

BESIDE THE CASCADE

HCMs and Engagement Consultants, Feb 18. A forty-minute briefing. They carry the one-line pitch, the dashboard link and the routing: a stuck manager goes to FLH, a people question stays with the manager.

Oracle Learning, from Mar 2. Assignment notices and the Day 1 email for every new manager, automatically, with a note to the manager's manager.

MyVU and the PCB newsletter, Feb 24 and Mar 2. The teaser, then the story.

Compass, on every page. The course guide answers questions about the course in the course, so the launch inbox stays small.

ONE VOICE
Every tier uses the same four expectations, in the same words.

PERSON BEFORE SYSTEM
No manager's first contact is an Oracle notice.

DATES, NOT ADJECTIVES
Each message carries the dates for that reader.

ONE ASK
Each message asks for exactly one thing.

PLAIN VANDERBILT
No jargon, no exclamation marks, short sentences.

DRAFT MESSAGE C1 · WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 2027

To senior leadership: what we are launching on March 2.

PEOPLE, CULTURE AND BELONGING
Manager Voyage

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

FROM [Name], People, Culture and Belonging
TO Senior leadership team
SUBJECT Manager Voyage: one standard for every manager, launching March 2

We are asking every manager to manage the same way.

Our internal fill rates sit well below benchmark because the manager bench is thin, and most of our managers were never trained to manage. Manager Voyage fixes the second problem so that, over time, it fixes the first.

It is one standard, the Vanderbilt Manager Standard, in four expectations: get the work done through your team, take care of your people, make things better, and connect your team to the rest of Vanderbilt. Every manager, M1 to M5, in every location, gets the same first ninety days: compliance by location, a ninety-minute Foundations course with live practice conversations set in their own unit, short micro modules on the systems and processes they now own, a dashboard that shows where they stand, and the Portal that never goes away. After sixty days in good standing, a four-week cohort of twenty five managers a quarter builds the skill with their own teams and ends with each manager presenting a Playbook to their business unit leader.

A pilot of twenty five managers from DAR, Facilities, VBOM, USAC, Campus Dining and VUIT ran in January. The campus launch is Monday, March 2.

Three things I am asking of each of you before then:

- Sponsor it in your area. Say, in your own words, that this is how we manage here. FLH will brief your leadership team on February 10.
- Protect the time. Ask your managers' managers to block two to three hours for each manager in the first two weeks of March.
- Name three managers for the first cohort, which opens April 14.

READ THE ONE-PAGE BRIEF

I will bring the first ninety days back to this group on June 10.

SUBJECT Your unit's dates for Manager Voyage, and your toolkit

Three dates for your unit.

Thank you for thirty minutes on February 10. Here is what we covered, and the toolkit.

- Tuesday, February 17. Your managers' managers receive the forwardable note. The ask: tell your managers yourself before March 2, block two to three hours per manager, and ask about the assessment in a 1:1 by day 14.
- Monday, March 2. Launch. Every manager in your unit gets the email and the Oracle assignment that morning.
- Wednesday, April 14. Cohort 1 opens. Send me three names by February 27. Units with thirty or more managers can run a bespoke cohort; DAR is first.

The toolkit: the one-page brief, five slides for your leadership meeting, the forwardable note, and a one-page FAQ. The My Voyage dashboard shows your managers by location once they open it; I will send your unit's view on March 16.

FORWARDABLE NOTE
From a manager's manager

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

FROM [The manager's manager]
TO [Their managers]
SUBJECT Coming March 2: Manager Voyage, and two hours I have blocked for you

You are a manager now. This is how we manage here.

On Monday, March 2 you will get an email from People, Culture and Belonging about Manager Voyage. I wanted you to hear it from me first.

It is one standard for every manager at Vanderbilt, in four expectations: get the work done through your team, take care of your people, make things better, connect your team to the rest of Vanderbilt. The first thing it asks of you is a five-minute self-assessment. Then a short course, about ninety minutes in all, that you can do in sittings on your phone, with practice conversations set in our unit.

I have blocked two to three hours for you between March 2 and March 13 to do it. Nothing else goes in that time. In our 1:1 in the week of March 16 I will ask what your assessment showed and which habit you picked. I am doing the same.

The course is the start. After sixty days there is a four-week cohort, and I would like you in one this year.

[Name]

NOTE The forwardable note is deliberately short, so that it reads as the manager's own words. FLH sends it on February 17 with one line at the top: "Make it yours, then send it before March 2."

The teaser, and the launch email.

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

Every manager. One standard. March 2.

Whether you became a manager last week or fifteen years ago, on March 2 you get the same first ninety days: a five-minute self-assessment, a ninety-minute course you can take on your phone with practice conversations set in your own unit, short modules on the systems and processes you own, and a dashboard that shows where you stand. After sixty days, a four-week cohort with your own team's situations.

SUBJECT You are a manager now. Your voyage starts today.

Hi [First name]. You are a manager now, whatever year you started.

Today Vanderbilt launches Manager Voyage: one standard for every manager, in four expectations. Get the work done through your team. Take care of your people. Make things better. Connect your team to the rest of Vanderbilt.

Your first step takes five minutes. Rate ten statements about how you manage in a typical month. Your results come straight back, by expectation, with the one habit to start with.

TAKE THE ASSESSMENT, FIVE MINUTES

Then your dashboard: your compliance courses for [location], your dates, the Foundations course, and the modules for the systems you own.

- By April 1. Your legal compliance courses, assigned in Oracle Learning this morning.
- By May 1. The policy courses, the Foundations course (seven modules, about ninety minutes, in sittings, on your phone), and the Systems and Vanderbilt modules.
- Then. An invitation to a four-week cohort, where you practice the standard with your own team's situations and present how you will lead.

The Day 1 email, and the note to the manager's manager.

PEOPLE, CULTURE AND BELONGING
Manager Voyage

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

TO [First name] [Last name], the day the manager assignment starts in Oracle HCM
SUBJECT Day 1: you are a manager now. Here is your voyage.

Hi [First name]. Today is day one.

Congratulations on the role. From today you are responsible for the work of your team and for the people on it. Manager Voyage is how Vanderbilt gets you ready: the same standard every manager here works to, in four expectations, and a first ninety days with real dates.

Today, five minutes. Rate ten statements about how you manage. There is no wrong result; it is your starting point.

TAKE THE ASSESSMENT

This week. Open My Voyage. It is built for you: your compliance courses for [location] with their dates, the Foundations course, and who to call. Begin Module 1, the mission, in five minutes.

- By [Day 30 date]. Legal compliance courses, assigned in Oracle Learning today.
- By [Day 60 date]. Policy courses, the Foundations course (about ninety minutes in sittings), and the Systems and Vanderbilt modules: timekeeping, time off, approvals, hiring.

OPEN MY VOYAGE

SUBJECT [First name] became a manager today. Two to three hours, please.

[First name] [Last name] started a manager assignment on your team today and has been sent their Manager Voyage: a five-minute assessment, a ninety-minute course, and compliance courses with dates.

Two things make the difference in the first month:

- Block two to three hours for them between now and [Day 14 date]. Nothing else goes in that time.
- In a 1:1 by [Day 14 date], ask what the assessment showed and which habit they picked.

Their dashboard shows their dates; yours shows your team's. Legal courses are due [Day 30 date].

TO Managers with no assessment and no course activity after seven days
SUBJECT Five minutes today, [First name]

Ten statements. Five minutes.

A week ago you were sent your Manager Voyage. Nothing has been opened yet, which usually means the week was full, not that you decided against it.

The first step is the shortest. Rate ten statements about how you manage in a typical month. Your results come straight back, by expectation, with the one habit to start with.

TAKE THE ASSESSMENT

Then Module 1 of the course, the mission, is five more minutes. The whole course is about ninety, in as many sittings as you like, on your phone. Your manager has blocked time for it before [Day 14 date].

Your legal compliance courses are due [Day 30 date]. They are separate, in Oracle Learning, and your dashboard lists them.

   Dashboard link, assessment link, the dates. The Oracle assignment notice follows at 8:00 so the email is read first.
4. The dashboard.
   My Voyage reads the manager's name, location and completions from Oracle through the profile feed, and shows each row as Verified in Oracle, Complete, Opened or Not started.
5. Completion write-back.
   The Foundations course records its completion and quick check score in Oracle Learning. Inside Oracle, through the SCORM launcher; on the web, through the completion flow.

EVERY NEW MANAGER, FROM MARCH 2

1. Trigger.
   A manager assignment starts in Oracle HCM. The profile feed carries the start date and location.
2. Day 1.
   Compliance assigned by location with deadlines from the start date. Foundations and phase one modules assigned, due day 60. The Day 1 email and the note to the manager's manager go the same day.
3. Days 7, 22 and 60.
   The nudges, each sent once and only where it applies.
4. Day 60 in good standing.
   Compliance complete, Foundations complete. The invitation to the cohort goes with the completion email; the Portal request form takes the seat request.

THE RULES

- Legal compliance by day 30, policy by day 60. Oracle enforces it; the dashboard shows it.
- Foundations is strongly encouraged and tracked, not a condition of the role. It is a condition of the cohort.
- Twenty five seats a quarter, nominated by the manager's manager or requested by the manager. Units of thirty or more managers can run a bespoke cohort.
- An Oracle completion always outranks a self-reported one.

Open decision for December 11: whether Foundations is delivered inside Oracle Learning through the SCORM launcher (one package that frames the live site, completion recorded in Oracle) or on the web with the completion flow. Both paths are built for; the launcher is the recommended path and keeps every fix live without a re-upload.

DELIVERY

Self-paced on the web, cohorts on the calendar, support on every page.

COHORT CALENDAR 2027

COHORT	WEEK 1, ROOM	WEEK 2, VIRTUAL	WEEK 3, VIRTUAL	CAPSTONE, ROOM	WHO
1	WED APR 14	WED APR 21	WED APR 28	WED MAY 5	Pilot graduates and early completers, nominated Feb 27
2	WED JUL 14	WED JUL 21	WED JUL 28	WED AUG 4	Launch wave completers, invited from May 1
3	WED OCT 6	WED OCT 13	WED OCT 20	WED OCT 27	Launch wave and new managers
DAR	Bespoke cohort, dates set with DAR leadership, target Q3				DAR managers

THE WEEKLY RHYTHM

BEAT	WHEN	TIME
Core module in Oracle Learning	Released Friday	30 to 35 min
Learning Lab in SparkWise, small group	Your own time	40 to 45 min
Simulation lab, a live voice conversation	On your phone	10 min
Playbook, one section	Due Sunday	5 min

WHAT IT TAKES TO RUN

- Facilitation. Two FLH facilitators per cohort; the business unit leader in the room for the capstone. One room for a half day and two hours per cohort.
- Platforms. Oracle Learning for the core modules and completions. SparkWise for the labs. The cohort site for the Playbook and the pulse. ElevenLabs characters for the simulations, inside the course and the cohort site.
- Capacity. Twenty five managers a cohort, three open cohorts and one bespoke cohort in 2027: about one hundred managers through the cohort in the first year. The June 10 readout decides whether to add a fourth facilitator pair.

SUPPORT ON EVERY PAGE

- Compass, the course guide, answers questions about the course and its content inside the course, text only, any hour.
- The Portal holds who to call: HCM, Engagement Consultant, Employee Relations, EOA, Title IX, Leave, the Hotline, with same-day routes marked.
- FLH inbox for anything the course cannot answer: a course that will not open, a completion that did not record. Same-day reply during launch.

ACCESSIBILITY AND REACH

- The course runs on a phone, with narration on every page and a written path for every live conversation, for rooms without microphones.
- Every practice conversation can be set in the manager's own world: a business office, Campus Dining, VUIT, Academic Affairs, Student Affairs, Facilities, DAR.

THE PILOT

January: twenty five managers take the first thirty days in three weeks.

WHO

The roster

Twenty five managers nominated by the November 5 group: DAR, Facilities, VBOM, USAC, Campus Dining and VUIT, a mix of M1 to M5 and at least five managers of hourly teams. Their managers' managers are in the pilot too; they get the forwardable note on January 5.

WHAT

The whole first thirty days

The assessment, the Foundations course inside Oracle through the launcher, the phase one micro modules, the Day 1, Day 7 and Day 22 messages on a compressed clock, and the dashboard. Five pilot managers also do the cohort's week 0.

WHEN

Jan 6 to Jan 29

Opens Wednesday, January 6. Fifteen-minute check-ins with each manager in the week of January 18. Readout Wednesday, January 27. Launch go, no go Friday, January 29.

WHAT WE MEASURE

MEASURE	EXIT BAR FOR LAUNCH
Opened the dashboard within 7 days	20 of 25
Assessment taken	20 of 25
Foundations complete within 21 days	15 of 25
Completion recorded in Oracle without help	Every completion
Live conversation started on the first try	4 of 5 who tried, microphone and written path counted
Time on the course, self-reported	Median under 100 minutes
"I know what is expected of me as a manager here"	4 of 5 agree, in the pilot survey

WHAT WE FIX BEFORE LAUNCH

- Anything that stops a completion reaching Oracle.
- Any page where the pilot managers did not know where to click. The November 5 feedback already drove the one-idea-per-screen rebuild; the pilot confirms it.
- The two to three hour protected time ask: did the managers' managers do it, and did it hold.
- Message wording: every draft on pages 11 to 16 is tested on the pilot and rewritten from what they said.

WHAT THE PILOT DOES NOT TEST

- The cascade itself. Leaders are briefed on the pilot results, not before them.
- Cohort weeks 1 to 4. Cohort 1 is the first run, with the pilot managers in it.

MEASUREMENT

What we report, to whom, and when.

LAUNCH MEASURES, NINETY DAYS

MEASURE	TARGET	SOURCE
Launch email opened within 7 days	85 of 100	Email system
Dashboard opened by day 14	85 of 100	Dashboard, profile feed
Assessment baseline taken	70 of 100	Assessment flow
Foundations complete by day 60	55 of 100 launch wave, 90 of 100 new managers	Oracle Learning
Legal compliance by day 30	100 of 100	Oracle Learning
Phase one micro modules by day 60	45 of 100	Oracle Learning
Cohort seat requests	30 of 100	Portal form
Protected time given, manager's report	80 of 100	Day 60 survey, one question

IMPACT MEASURES, FROM MONTH THREE

MEASURE	TARGET	SOURCE
Re-up assessment answered	60 of 100 completers	Assessment flow
Real movement: 5 or more points on the total	40 of 100 re-ups	Results dashboard
Priority expectation moved by 0.7 or more	50 of 100 re-ups	Results dashboard
Cohort confidence pulse, week 4 against week 1	Up on all four questions	Cohort site
Internal fill rate for manager roles	Trend, reported yearly	Oracle Recruiting
Manager regretted attrition in the first year	Trend, reported yearly	Oracle HCM

CADENCE

- Weekly during launch, March 2 to April 30: the funnel to FLH and PCB leadership, one page.
- June 10: the ninety-day readout to senior leadership.
- Quarterly: the results dashboard by business unit, to business unit leaders.
- Yearly: fill rate and attrition beside the program numbers.

The assessment is a self-reflection tool, not a validated instrument, and never a performance evaluation. Movement is reported in aggregate; a manager's own results go only to that manager.

Who owns what, and what could go wrong.

RISKS AND WHAT WE DO ABOUT THEM

RISK	MITIGATION
Budget season and leave thin the February cascade.	Briefings are thirty minutes, toolkits do the rest, and C3 can go from FLH on a leader's behalf.
Managers hear it from Oracle first.	The assignment notice is sent thirty minutes after the launch email; managers' managers are reminded the week before.
Microphone blocked inside Oracle.	Tested in the December go, no go. The written path and open in a new window cover it.
Completion not recorded.	The launcher writes to Oracle; the web path writes through the completion flow; FLH checks the daily exceptions list during launch.
"Thirty-five minutes" felt dishonest in November.	Every message says about ninety minutes in sittings, the essentials in thirty-five.
Experienced managers opt out.	The assessment first, the cohort as the reward, and the business unit leader saying it in their own words.
Cohort demand above seats.	Waitlist by completion date; bespoke cohorts for units of thirty or more; capacity decision June 10.

THE NEXT THIRTY DAYS

Decisions and dates between now and the December go.

DECISIONS NEEDED

DECISION	BY	WHO
Launch date confirmed as Monday, March 2, 2027, or moved; every date in this plan moves with it	NOV 20	PCB leadership
Sender and signature for C1 and C6	NOV 20	PCB leadership
Foundations inside Oracle through the launcher, or on the web with the completion flow	DEC 11	FLH, VUIT
Funnel targets on page 7 adopted as the launch bar	DEC 11	PCB leadership, FLH
Pilot roster of twenty five, with managers' managers	DEC 4	The November 5 group
The first-time-manager intro: scope, and who assigns it	DEC 11	FLH
Bespoke DAR cohort: yes, and the quarter	JAN 29	DAR leadership, FLH

WORK IN FLIGHT

- Nov 25. QA sheet closes. Content, function and layout feedback folded in by December 4.
- Dec 4. Day 1 email and Portal checklist carry the protected-time line to the manager's manager.
- Dec 9. Oracle items for Foundations and the micro modules, the SCORM launcher, and a test completion in Oracle's test environment.
- Dec 9. Drafts C1 to M6 in final form, no em dashes, dates filled, in the FLH email templates.
- Dec 11. Go, no go for the pilot.
- Jan 5. Pilot managers' managers get the forwardable note; Jan 6 the pilot opens.

> Management is a set of habits, not a personality. Pick one behavior and make it routine.

The line every message ends on, from the assessment email.
