

Manager Voyage at a glance.

One structured path for every Vanderbilt manager from the day they start: the compliance courses the law requires, a Foundations course on what Vanderbilt expects of a manager, an optional four-week cohort to practice with a real team, and a portal that stays with them for the rest of their career. Built on one research-based framework and measured with a survey before the program and 90 days after.

THE PATH

The first 60 days, then the choice to go further.

THE FOUR COMPONENTS

01 REQUIRED Compliance Days 1 to 60 · renewed annually The legal and policy courses every manager must complete, matched to the state where the team works. Assigned automatically on Day 1; no enrollment step. Law-required courses due in 30 days, policy courses in 60. Oracle Learning holds the record.	02 STRONGLY RECOMMENDED Manager Foundations Days 1 to 60 · course by Day 7 Three parts, in order: the assessment, the 35-minute Foundation course, and short micro modules in Oracle Learning. Four tracks: Systems and Vanderbilt & Nashville by Day 30, People and Processes by Day 60.	03 OPTIONAL, RECOMMENDED Four-week cohort After Day 60 · quarterly · 100 seats Guided practice with the manager's own team. Each week: a core module, a learning lab, a scenario studio, and a Friday discussion. Managers build a Manager Playbook and present it at the capstone.	04 ALWAYS AVAILABLE Manager Portal From Day 1, for a career One site with every template, policy link, and contact from the course and the cohort, plus who to call for same-day routes. Maintained by People, Culture and Belonging.

MEASURING IMPACT

Reach and change.

REACH	Share of managers enrolled, from Oracle Learning. Target: 80% of M1 to M5 managers.
CHANGE	A ten-question survey on how often managers do the behaviors, taken before the program and 90 days after. The difference is the measure.
THEN	An optional six-month follow-up, and in a later phase the same questions answered by direct reports.
